Directorate of Forensic Science Services

Patronized By

Ministry of Home Affairs, Govt. of India

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The Directorate of Forensic Science Services (DFSS) MHA, New Delhi organizes All India Forensic Science Conference (AIFSC) every year in association with several organizations. AIFSC brings together forensic science experts, researchers, and various participants in the delivery of criminal justice, as well as students and academic staff from Indian and international universities. This conference offers a great forum for discussing the most recent advancements in forensic research and investigation. The AIFSC is a fantastic platform where forensic investigators from all across India can debate interesting case studies and share ideas on the most recent forensic techniques, adding a fresh perspective to a criminal investigation. This conference has been held in several locations over the years. The National Forensic Sciences University is hosting the 25th AIFSC this year from February 2-4 at Gandhinagar, Gujarat under the theme "Fostering Investigation Through Innovation and Research with International Approach". Eminent police officials and forensic scientists from India and foreign countries will be invited for knowledge sharing.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CONFERENCE

- Discussion on the advanced Scientific Research in Forensic and allied sciences.
- Panel Discussion on the Challenging Aspects of Forensic Science.
- Interaction with eminent experts over emerging trends and technologies in forensic investigation.
- Oral/Poster Presentation.
- Excellent opportunity to network with pioneers and leaders of forensic investigation.
- Selected Abstract/Research Papers to be published in proceedings of the reputed scientific publishers/journals.

SUB-THEMES

The prestigious 25th AIFSC conference will serve to disseminate crucial information on the multi-disciplinary aspects of forensic science. AIFSC is an excellent forum where forensic investigators across India discuss unique case studies and exchange ideas on the latest forensic practices, which in turn provides a new dimension in a criminal investigation that will be of great use to forensic scientists everywhere, and will help them stay abreast of the newest developments in the field. The conference will also include oral and poster presentations of research papers in the following areas, all of which have been contributed by active forensic scientists from universities that are actively engaged in the teaching forensic science as well as the State and Central Forensic Science Laboratories:

Forensic Biological Sciences

Forensic Psychology

Forensic Chemical Sciences

Medico-Legal Studies

Forensic Physical Sciences

Forensic Justice

Forensic Electronics

THE ORGANIZERS

National Forensic Sciences University

National Forensic Sciences University (erstwhile Gujarat Forensic Sciences University) was established by the Government of India through Act, 2020 (32 of 2020) on 1st October 2020 and also accorded the status of an "Institution of National Importance". Established under the aegis of the Ministry of Home Affairs, Govt. of India, the objective of NFSU is to promote forensic science in conjunction with applied behavioural science, law, criminology, and other allied areas and technologies. University has headquarter located at Gandhinagar, Gujarat and other campuses at Delhi, Goa, Tripura, and Bhopal along with academies at Pune, Guwahati, and Manipur. Through thirteen Schools, nine Centres of Excellence, and state-of-the-art infrastructures, NFSU is producing skilled human resources for the different domains of forensic investigation and promoting research and innovation. Being as world's first and only forensic university, NFSU is also providing consultancies and imparting training to different stakeholders of the criminal justice delivery system thus strengthening the forensic capabilities globally.

Directorate of Forensic Science Services (DFSS), MHA, New Delhi

The DFSS is a nodal organization of the Ministry of Home Affairs, Govt. of India to propagate and carry out best forensic science practices in the country to serve the cause of the criminal justice delivery system. It has been established in the year 2002 on bifurcation from the BPR&D, New Delhi. The motto of the organization is to provide: High Quality, on-time, and Credible Forensic Services to the nation.
